

The Lord of the Rings Roleplaying

Combat Actions (5E) - Player-hero reference

Attack

Make an attack with a melee weapon, ranged weapon, improvised weapon, or unarmed. Some calling features allow Extra Attack.

Help

Within 5 feet, give a creature advantage on its next ability check, or give an ally advantage on its first attack against a target within 5 feet of you.

Use a Craft

Use a Craft or calling feature that takes an action. Middle-earth has no spell slots - subtle Crafts replace overt spellcasting.

Hide

Make a Dexterity (Stealth) check to hide, following the usual rules for hiding.

Dash

Double your speed for this turn. The increase equals your speed after applying modifiers.

Ready

Choose a perceivable trigger and an action (or move up to your speed). When it occurs, use your reaction. Readying a concentrating Craft requires concentration.

Disengage

Your movement does not provoke opportunity attacks for the rest of your turn.

Search

Devote your attention to finding something. The Loremaster may call for Perception, Investigation, Explore, Hunting, or another skill.

Dodge

Attackers you can see have disadvantage against you, and you have advantage on Dexterity saves. Ends if you are incapacitated or your speed is 0.

Use an Object

Use an object that needs your action - including magical items, Rewards on your gear, or interacting with more than one object.

Improvise

Attempt anything fitting a tale of Middle-earth. The Loremaster decides if it is possible and what roll, if any, is required.

Middle-earth reminders

Shadow: Miserable (Shadow $\geq$ half Wisdom) - auto-fail on a natural 1-2. Anguished (Shadow $\geq$ Wisdom) - disadvantage on checks, attacks, and saves. | Fellowship: Spend points to aid the Company (often advantage). | Optional: 3 Success Dice (d6) may replace a d20.

[cut here]

The Lord of the Rings Roleplaying

Combat Actions (5E) - Player-hero reference

Attack

Make an attack with a melee weapon, ranged weapon, improvised weapon, or unarmed. Some calling features allow Extra Attack.

Help

Within 5 feet, give a creature advantage on its next ability check, or give an ally advantage on its first attack against a target within 5 feet of you.

Use a Craft

Use a Craft or calling feature that takes an action. Middle-earth has no spell slots - subtle Crafts replace overt spellcasting.

Hide

Make a Dexterity (Stealth) check to hide, following the usual rules for hiding.

Dash

Double your speed for this turn. The increase equals your speed after applying modifiers.

Ready

Choose a perceivable trigger and an action (or move up to your speed). When it occurs, use your reaction. Readying a concentrating Craft requires concentration.

Disengage

Your movement does not provoke opportunity attacks for the rest of your turn.

Search

Devote your attention to finding something. The Loremaster may call for Perception, Investigation, Explore, Hunting, or another skill.

Dodge

Attackers you can see have disadvantage against you, and you have advantage on Dexterity saves. Ends if you are incapacitated or your speed is 0.

Use an Object

Use an object that needs your action - including magical items, Rewards on your gear, or interacting with more than one object.

Improvise

Attempt anything fitting a tale of Middle-earth. The Loremaster decides if it is possible and what roll, if any, is required.

Middle-earth reminders

Shadow: Miserable (Shadow $\geq$ half Wisdom) - auto-fail on a natural 1-2. Anguished (Shadow $\geq$ Wisdom) - disadvantage on checks, attacks, and saves. | Fellowship: Spend points to aid the Company (often advantage). | Optional: 3 Success Dice (d6) may replace a d20.